THE INTERNAL REVENUE ACT.

[OFFICIAL.]

Laws of the United States.

Passed at the Second Session of the Thirty-seventh Congress.

[PUBLIC ACT—No. 97.]

An Act to provide internal revenue to support the Government and to pay interest on the public debt.

SALARIES AND PAY OF OFFICERS AND PERSONS IN THE SERVICE OF THE UNITED STATES, AND PASSPORTS.

Sec. 98. And be it further enacted, That if any person shall forge or counterfeit, or cause or procure to be forged or counterfeited, any stamp or die, or any part of any stamp or die, which shall have been provided, made, or used in pursuance of this act, or shall forge, counterfeit, or resemble, or cause or procure to be forged, counterfeited, or resembled, the impression, or any part of the impression, of any such stamp or die, as aforesaid, upon any vellum, parchment or paper, or shall stamp or mark, or cause or procure to be stamped or marked, any vellum, parchment or paper, with any such forged or counterfeited stamp or die, as aforesaid, with intent to defraud the United States of any of the duties hereby imposed, or any part thereof, or if any person shall utter, or sell, or expose to sale, any vellum, parchment, or paper, article or thing, having thereupon the impression of any such counterfeited stamp, or die, or any part of any stamp or die, or any such forged, counterfeited or resembled impression, or part of impression, as aforesaid, knowing the same respectively to be forged, counterfeited, or resembled; or if any person shall knowingly use any stamp or die which shall have been so provided, made or used, as aforesaid, with intent to defraud the United States; or if any person shall fraudulently cut, tear, or get off, or cause or procure to be cut, torn, or got off, the impression of any stamp or die which shall have been provided, made, or used in pursuance of this act, from any vellum, parchment, or paper, or any instrument or writing charged or chargeable with any of the duties hereby imposed, then, and in every such case, every person so offending, and every person knowingly and wilfully aiding, abetting, or assisting in committing any such offence as aforesaid, shall be deemed guilty of felony, and shall, on conviction thereof, forfeit the said counterfeit stamps and the articles upon which they are placed, and be punished by fine not exceeding one thousand dollars, and by imprisonment and confinement to hard labor not exceeding five years.

Sec. 99. And be it further enacted, That in any and all cases where an adhesive stamp shall be used for denoting any duty imposed by this act, except as hereinafter provided, the person using or affixing the same shall write thereupon the initials of his name, and the date upon which the same shall be attached or used, so that the same may not again be used. And if any person shall fraudulently make use of an adhesive stamp to denote any duty imposed by this act without so effectually cancelling and obliterating such stamp, except as before mentioned, he, she, or they shall forfeit the sum of fifty dollars: Provided, nevertheless, That any proprietor or proprietors of proprietary articles, or articles subject to stamp duty under schedule C of this act, shall have the privilege of furnishing, without expense to the United States, in suitable form, to be approved by the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, his or their own dies or designs for stamps to be used thereon, to be retained in the possession of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, for his or their separate use, which shall not be duplicated to any other person. That in all cases where such stamp is used, instead of his or their writing, his or their initials and the date thereon, the said stamp shall be so affixed on the box, bottle, or package, that in opening the same, or using the contents thereof, the said stamp shall be effectually destroyed; and in default thereof shall be liable to the same penalty imposed for neglect to affix said stamp as hereinbefore prescribed in this act. Any person who shall fraudulently obtain or use any of the aforesaid stamps or designs therefor, and any person forging or counterfeiting, or causing or procuring the forging or counterfeiting any representation, likeness, similitude or colorable imitation of the said last-mentioned stamp, or any engraver or printer who shall sell or give away said stamps, or selling the same, or, being a merchant, broker, or peddler, or person dealing, in whole or in part, in similar goods, wares merchandise, manufactures, preparations, or articles, or those designed for similar objects or purposes, shall have knowingly or fraudulently in his, her, or their possession any such forged, counterfeited likenesses, similitude, or colorable imitation of the said last mentioned stamp, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and, upon conviction thereof, shall be subject to all the penalties, fines, and forfeitures prescribed in section ninety-three of this act.

Sec. 100. And be it further enacted, That if any person or persons shall make, sign, or issue, or cause to be made, signed, or issued, or shall accept or pay, or cause to be accepted or paid, with design to evade the payment of any stamp duty, any bill of exchange, draft or order, or promissory note for the payment of money, liable to any of the duties imposed by this act, without the same being duly stamped, or having thereupon an adhesive stamp for denoting the duty hereby charged thereon, he, she, or they shall, for every such bill, draft, order, or note, forfeit the sum of two hundred dollars.

Sec. 101. And be it further enacted, That the acceptor or acceptors of any bill of exchange or order for the payment of any sum of money drawn, or purported to be drawn, in any foreign country, but payable in the United States, shall, before paying or accepting the same, place thereupon a stamp indicating the duty upon the same, as the law requires for inland bills of exchange, or promissory notes; and no bill of exchange shall be paid or negotiated without such stamp; and if any person shall pay or negotiate, or offer in payment, or receive or take in payment, any such draft or order, the person or persons so offending shall forfeit the sum of one hundred dollars.

Sec. 102. And be it further enacted, That the Commissioner of Internal Revenue, be, and is hereby, authorized to sell to and supply collectors, deputy collectors, postmasters, stationers, or any other persons, at his discretion, with adhesive stamps or stamped paper, vellum, or parchment, as herein provided for, upon the payment, at the time of delivery, of the amount of duties said stamps, stamped paper, vellum, or parchment, so sold or supplied, represent, and may thereupon allow and deduct from the aggregate amount of such stamps, as aforesaid, the sum of not exceeding five per centum as commission to the collectors, postmasters, stationers, or any other purchasers; but the cost of any paper, vellum, or parchment shall be added to the amount, after deducting the allowance of per centum, as aforesaid: Provided, That no commission shall be allowed on any sum or sums so sold or supplied of less amount than fifty dollars. And provided, further, That any proprietor or proprietors of articles named in schedule C, who shall furnish his or their own die or design for stamps, to be used especially for his or their own proprietary articles, shall be allowed the following discount, namely: on amounts purchased at one time of not less than fifty nor more than five hundred dollars, five per centum; on amounts over five hundred dollars, ten per centum. The Commissioner of Internal Revenue may from time to time make regulations for the allowance of such of the stamps issued under the provisions of this act as may have been spoiled or rendered useless or unfit for the purpose intended, or for which the owner may have no use, or which through mistake may have been improperly or unnecessarily used, or where the rates or duties represented thereby have been paid in error or remitted; and such allowances shall be made either by giving other stamps in lieu of the stamps so allowed for, or by repaying the amount or value, after deducting therefrom, in case of repayment, the sum of five per centum to the owner thereof.

Sec. 103. And be it further enacted, That it shall be lawful for any person to present to the Commissioner of Internal Revenue any instrument, and require his opinion whether or not the same is chargeable with any duty; and if the said Commissioner shall be of opinion that such instrument is not chargeable with any stamp duty, it shall be lawful for him, and he is hereby required, to impress thereon a particular stamp, to be provided for that purpose, with such word or words or device thereon as he shall judge proper, which shall signify and denote that such instrument is not chargeable with any stamp duty; and every such instrument upon which the said stamp shall be impressed, shall be deemed to be not so chargeable, and shall be received in evidence in all courts of law or equity, notwithstanding any objections made to the same as being chargeable with stamp duty, and not stamped to denote the same.

Sec. 104. And be it further enacted, That on and after the date on which this act shall take effect, no telegraph company or its agent or employee shall receive from any person, or transmit to any person, any despatch or message without an adhesive stamp denoting the duty imposed by this act being affixed to a copy thereof, or having the same stamped thereupon, and in default thereof shall incur a penalty of ten dollars: Provided, That only one stamp shall be required, whether sent through one or more companies.

Sec. 105. And be it further enacted, That on and after the date on which this act shall take effect, no express company or its agent or employee shall receive for transportation from any person any bale, bundle, box, article or package of any description, without either delivering to the consignor thereof a printed receipt, having stamped or affixed thereon a stamp denoting the duty imposed by this act, or without affixing thereto an adhesive stamp or stamps denoting such duty, and in default thereof shall incur a penalty of ten dollars: Provided, That but one stamped receipt or stamp shall be required for each shipment from one party to another party at the same time, whether such shipment consist of one or more packages: And provided, also, That no stamped receipts or stamp shall be required for any bale, bundle, box, article, or package transported for the government, nor for such bales, bundles, boxes, or packages as are transported by such companies without charge thereon.

Sec. 106. And be it further enacted, That all the provisions of this act relating to dies, stamps, adhesive stamps, and stamp duties, shall extend to and include (except where manifestly inapplicable) all the articles or objects enumerated in schedule marked C, subject to stamp duties, and apply to the provisions in relation thereto.

Sec. 107. And be it further enacted, That on and after the first day of August, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, no person or persons, firms, companies or corporations, shall make, prepare, and sell, or remove for consumption or sale, drugs, medicines, preparations, compositions, articles, or things, including perfumery, cosmetics, and playing cards, upon which a duty is imposed by this act, as enumerated and mentioned in schedule C, without affixing thereon an adhesive stamp or label, denoting the duty before mentioned, and in default thereof shall incur a penalty of ten dollars: Provided, That nothing in this act contained shall apply to any uncompounded medicinal drug or chemical, nor to any medicine compounded according to the United States or other national pharmacopœia, nor of which the full and proper formula is published in either of the dispensatories, formularies, or text-books in common use among physicians and apothecaries, including homœopathic and eclectic, or in any pharmaceutical journal now used by any incorporated college of pharmacy, and not sold or offered for sale, or advertised under any other name, form, or guise, than that under which they may be severally denominated and laid down in said pharmacopœias, dispensatories, text-books, or journals, as aforesaid, nor to medicines sold to or for the use of any person, which may be mixed and compounded specially for said person, according to the written recipe or prescription of any physician or surgeon.

Sec. 108. And be it further enacted, That every manufacturer or maker of any of the articles for sale mentioned in schedule C, after the same shall have been so made, and the particulars hereinbefore required, as to stamps, have been complied with, who shall take off, remove, or detach, or cause, or permit, or suffer to be taken off, or removed or detached, any stamp, or who shall use any stamp, or any wrapper or cover to which any stamp is affixed, to cover any other article or commodity than that originally contained in such wrapper or cover, with such stamp when first used, with the intent to evade the stamp duties, shall for every such article, respectively, in respect of which any such offence shall be committed, be subject to a penalty of fifty dollars, to be recovered, together with the costs thereupon accruing, and every such article or commodity as aforesaid shall also be forfeited.

Sec. 109. And be it further enacted, That every maker or manufacturer of any of the articles or commodities mentioned in schedule C, as aforesaid, who shall sell, send out, remove, or deliver any article or commodity, manufactured as aforesaid, before the duty thereon shall have been fully paid, by affixing thereon the proper stamp, as in this act provided, or who shall hide or conceal, or cause to be hidden or concealed, or who shall remove or convey away, or deposit, or cause to be removed or conveyed away from or deposited in any place, any such article or commodity, to evade the duty chargeable thereon, or any part thereof, shall be subject to a penalty of one hundred dollars, together with the forfeiture of any such article or commodity: Provided, That medicines, preparations, compositions, perfumery, and cosmetics, upon which stamp duties are required by this act, may, when intended for exportation, be manufactured and sold, or removed, without having stamps affixed thereto, and without being charged with duty, as aforesaid; and every manufacturer or maker of any article, as aforesaid, intended for exportation, shall give such bonds and be subject to such rules and regulations to protect the revenue against fraud as may be from time to time prescribed by the Secretary of the Treasury.

Sec. 110. And be it further enacted, That every manufacturer or maker of any articles or commodities, as aforesaid, or his chief workman, agent or superintendent, shall at the end of each and every month make and sign a declaration in writing that no such article or commodity as aforesaid, has, during the preceding month, or time when the last declaration was made, been removed, carried, or sent, or caused, or suffered, or known to have been removed, carried, or sent from the premises of such manufacturer or maker, other than such as have been duly taken account of and charged with the stamp duty, on pain of such manufacturer or maker forfeiting for every refusal or neglect to make such declaration one hundred dollars; and if any such manufacturer or maker, or his chief workman, agent or superintendent, shall make any false or untrue declaration, such manufacturer or maker, or chief workman, agent, or superintendent, making the same, shall forfeit five hundred dollars.

The Eastern Elections

We find the following well written article in the Sacramento Union of October 15th, which we copy entire, as it presents the results of the recent elections in a shape exactly suited to our understanding, and which will prove interesting to those who read it:

As remarked by the Union the political intelligence from the East has more significance than the few items of war news received. State and Congressional elections were held in Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana and Iowa, on Tuesday, October 14th. Both friends and opponents of the National Administration have been looking on these contests at the ballot box with considerable anxiety. The great drain of Union men to fill the ranks of our armies had, it was thought, endangered some of the strongest Union districts, and the "Democrats" made large calculations of Congressional gains. The decree of emancipation was supposed to have strengthened the opponents of the Administration. The returns received are better than there was any reason to expect, under the circumstances. The old Keystone State, with at least one hundred and thirty thousand loyalists in the field, can yet afford to give about fifty thousand majority for the Union State ticket! The democrats appear to have made but little impression in trying to break the phalanx of Union Congressmen from that State. In Philadelphia they have lost one member, Col Biddle, and gained one, John Kline, in place of John P. Verree. Thaddeus Stevens and Judge Kelly, the strongest men of the old delegation, have been re-elected. In the Seventh District, now represented by John Hickman, Gen. George A. McCall, who recently returned from Richmond announcing himself in favor of offering the rebels a choice of "instant submission or extermination," has probably defeated Campbell, straight republican candidate. In the Eleventh District, James H Campbell, who will be remembered as an earnest advocate of the Pacific Railroad, has been defeated by a democrat named Johnson. Campbell represents the mining region of Schuylkill, which has contributed several regiments to the Union army. As far as heard from, in Pennsylvania, the "democrats" gain two Congressmen and lose one. The returns from Ohio are even more satisfactory. Although John A. Gurley, Union candidate, is probably defeated in the Second District, which includes a portion of Cincinnati—in the Third, the notorious Clement L Vallandigham has been beaten by Gen Robert C Schenck, who has fought and bled in the Union cause. Edward Wade has been re-elected in the Toledo District. In Indiana, the Congressional delegation is reported to be divided as it is in the present Congress. Schuyler Colfax, the ablest of the Union members, and D. W. Voorhees, the bitterest of the Bright democrats, have both been re-elected. The Union State ticket is thought to be elected by a small majority. There are no returns from Iowa. These elections will tend to strengthen the hands of the National Administration. They give assurance of continued and cordial support in the prosecution of the war. They prove how weak the opponents of the Administration must be when, notwithstanding the withdrawal of so many of our men for service in the field, the Union party can still hold its own at the polls. The prospect is that the increase of "Democratic" strength in the next Congress will be so slight as to render the opposition of small account. Long before that Congress will assemble, however, the rebellion will be at an end."

PUBLIC MEETING AT PORT TOWNSEND.—Notwithstanding the fact that the OREGONIAN was not requested to publish the proceedings, we take the liberty to state that the people of Port Townsend held an indignation meeting on the 25th ult in which they emphatically deny certain statements made against them by anonymous writers to the San Francisco Bulletin and Alta, and the British Colonist of recent dates, and demand of the editors and publishers of these journals the names of the individuals thus charging them with disloyalty and favoring secession and treason. We have noticed the communications referred to, and deem this action entirely proper and necessary, and hope that the name of the slanderer may be made public. Hand him round, gentlemen, when you find him out we'll help you give him a boost!

CONTRIBUTIONS TO THE SANITARY FUND.—The Washington Standard, of the 18th inst, publishes a list of contributors to the Sanitary Fund, in which is included the net proceeds of a benefit ball recently given by certain patriotic ladies assisted by the young gentlemen of Olympia. The net proceeds of the ball amounted to $243 40. We notice two items of expenses which the managers of the ball had to pay: one to the Overland Press for printing posters, $8, and the other to S Galliher for services, $10. All other citizens of the place who were called upon to contribute or assist in getting up the ball, were kind enough to do so without charge, or nearly so.

Letter from Rev. Thos H Pearne to Governor A C Gibbs.

Rev. Thomas H. Pearne [illegible] the following letter to [illegible] the appointment recently tendered [illegible] General of the Oregon State Militia [illegible] the 2d District:

To his Excellency, [illegible], Governor of Oregon—SIR: On returning from the Dalles last evening I found [illegible] awaiting me a commission [illegible] and countersigned by the Secretary of State with the State seal affixed [illegible] Brigadier General [illegible] for the Second Brigade [illegible] October 10th.

I need not say that [illegible] was utterly unlooked for [illegible] part. While I duly appreciate it as a testimonial of your confidence in my integrity and loyalty I am constrained by several considerations, some of which it may be [illegible] to specify, respectfully to decline [illegible] the appointment. I prefer to do so in this public manner that my motives and [illegible] may not be misunderstood. In any ordinary condition of affairs it is probably best, for obvious reasons, that ministers of the gospel should not accept strictly military offices either in the State or Federal [illegible]. In a crisis like the present, when traitorous bands reeking with blood are seeking to destroy the civil and religious liberties for which our patriot fathers so freely expended their treasure and laid down their lives, every true man whether layman or minister, ought whatever of means and influence he has, and his life also, if required, to thwart the infamous design and the more so as this design has [illegible] proportions of such appalling magnitude and discloses such hellish malignity and ferocity. If there were any probability that the State Militia of Oregon would be called on for active service in suppressing this rebellion or repelling invasion I should not hesitate a moment about accepting the office conferred and devoting to it my utmost energy and zeal. I am not fully apprised of the provisions of the new law under which my appointment is made, yet I suppose, from the best information I can gather from those who have seen it, that it does not differ materially from the militia laws of other States, and which have thus far been generally found of but little practical utility or efficiency as a means of public defence or deliverance. As the position therefore, would be comparatively a nominal one and not likely to be of great importance to the safety or deliverance of the State or Nation I do not feel myself under obligations to accept it. No disparagement or discouragement of the organization of the State Militia is intended in these remarks. As a precautionary measure, and as furnishing the basis and frame work of a prompt and efficient volunteer military body when needed such an organization may be wise and desirable. Yet, the contingency of that necessity occurring in Oregon is so remote, and there are so many others of my fellow citizens equally qualified and in some respects, much better adapted than myself for the position, that neither will the State suffer injury nor my patriotism be justly impeached by my declinature.

I will add, that should any exigence arise in which it becomes necessary to draft the militia of Oregon or to call out volunteers to aid in suppressing this rebellion or in repelling foreign invasion your Excellency may command my services and means as a private or in any other capacity in which they may be most usefully employed. Revolutions such as that of the Netherlanders against the lawless lust of tyranny of Philip the Second, or that of the Third Estate of France against the feudal injustice and oppression which for generations had rested as an incubus upon them, or that of the Puritans under Cromwell against the insufferable persecutions and outrages of James the First and Charles the First, or that of our patriot fathers against the galling oppressions of George the Third and for the God given rights of self government are justified by the concurrence of civilized humanity everywhere and in all ages. But sedition, privy conspiracy and rebellion against such a government as ours, and for the purposes for which this rebellion was inaugurated is a combination of crimes so atrocious and it assumes, in this instance such giant dimensions, that the black and baleful shadow is cast not only over the our entire land, but over the whole civilized world, filling the hearts of all true men with horror and indignation. Under such circumstances every patriot, every American citizen who is a well-wisher of humanity, every one who prefers liberty to the most cruel despotism, in order to the most infernal anarchy and misrule, and law and right and security to outrage and rapine and desolation, will not only execrate the high offense but will gird himself for the conflict and if necessary engage in it determined to maintain the right or die. Nor is life itself in such an endeavor too costly an offering.

They never fail who die
In a great cause

However long and threateningly the storm cloud may lower upon other portions of our beloved country, the hope is cherished that Oregon may continue happily exempt from that most horrible calamity, civil war. But if treason should lift its snaky head among us and interrupt our peace or menace our security, the conviction is abiding that the loyal hosts of Oregon, under our true and humane Executive will be found both ready and able to assert and maintain the right. With sentiments of high consideration I have the honor to be your Excellency's most obedient servant,

THOMAS H PEARNE

Portland, Oct. 21st, 1862

IN MEMORY.—The Washington Standard publishes a notice that the citizens of Olympia were to hold a meeting on the 2[illegible] inst, for the purpose of adopting some suitable means to perpetuate the memory of Gen Isaac I Stevens, who fell while leading his brave comrades in one of the most important victories gained over the rebels since the war began. We are pleased to see that the people of his adopted home are about taking this commendable object in hand and trust that such action will be taken as shall secure the perfection of a testimonial creditable to the man, the hero and the patriot.

WANTED TO PAY CASH.—In an interior town in old Connecticut lives an odd character named Ben Hayden. Ben has some good points but he will run his face when and where he can, and never pay. In the same town lives Jacob Bond, who keeps the store at the corner. Ben had run his face there but to get his pay was more than Bond was equal to. One day Ben made his appearance with a bag and wheelbarrow. "Mr Bond, I want to buy two bushels of corn and I want to pay you the cash for it." "Very well," says Bond. And so they both go up stairs and Bond puts up the corn, and Ben takes it down while Bond stops to close up his windows. When he got down he saw old Ben some ways from the door, making for home. "Hallo, Ben! You said you wanted to pay the cash for that corn." Old Ben set down on one side of his barrow, and cocking his head on one side said: "That's all true Mr. Bond, I do want to pay you the cash for the corn, but I can't."

Eastern Items

[illegible] Oct [illegible]—A dispatch to Gov [illegible] Danville [illegible] says: The rebels have left Camp Dick Robinson, going south toward Lancaster, Garrard county, south [illegible] of Frankfort. The federals are in pursuit of them. Our forces now occupy Lexington, which place the rebels evacuated on Monday, October [illegible]. A large force of the enemy is reported still at Nicholasville, Jessamine county, twenty-seven miles south [illegible] of Frankfort. It is positively known that our forces now occupy Danville and Harrodsburg, with our lines stretching between the two points.

CINCINNATI, Oct 1[illegible].—The Grenada Appeal [illegible] October [illegible]th says a North Carolina regiment is now stationed at Cumberland Gap garrisoning that point.

A rebel [illegible] the Appeal says [illegible] on Mr [illegible] and urges the State authorities not to rely any longer upon the Confederate Government for protection, but to [illegible] with the [illegible] in whole [illegible]

NEW YORK, Oct 1[illegible].—Augusta (Ga.) papers of October 7th say a Confederate force near within two miles of Jacksonville (Fla.) on the 6th driving in the Federal pickets, when the gunboats opened on them but did no damage. Eleven hundred Yankees landed at Jacksonville on the 7th and left on the 9th. The gunboats remained.

The Petersburg (Va.) Express says reliable intelligence that the Union forces in and [illegible] and Suffolk (Va.) number 5,000.

PADUCAH, (Ky.) October 1[illegible].—The steamer Hazel Dell was stopped for seven hours opposite Evansville Indiana, yesterday, by guerillas. They took the mails, her goods and several officers and soldiers from her and then allowed her to proceed. The rebel force is said to have numbered twenty five.

LOUISVILLE, Oct 17.—It is stated that five thousand prisoners have been captured at Perryville, Danville and Camp Dick Robinson. The enemy are falling back rapidly towards Cumberland Gap. A forced march will be necessary to escape from Buell, who is travelling without any equipment or baggage more than is absolutely necessary.

The Nashville Union of October 9th contains an account of the breaking up of the rebel camp of General Anderson, at Lavergne, Tennessee. Our loss as far as ascertained was four killed and seven wounded. The rebel loss was thirty killed, eighty wounded, and over three hundred taken prisoners, including two Colonels and several Captains and minor officers. A number of the captives declared themselves sick of the war, and willing to take the oath and go home.

WASHINGTON, Oct 1[illegible].—Secretary Chase has been very ill for some days, but is now recovering.

FATAL AFFRAY.—We understand that a fatal stabbing affray occurred at Oregon City on Tuesday last. We have not been able to learn the particulars further than that two men got into a quarrel and one of them using rough words, the other drew a knife and inflicted several severe wounds in the back and body of his adversary, resulting in death a few hours after. The name of the man killed is Lobeas Morong, but we are unable to give the name of the man who did the deed.

P S Since writing the above we have received the following copy of verdict by the Coroner's jury in the above case:

We the undersigned jurors on the inquest on the body of Lobeas Morong, after a careful inspection of the body and testimony, find that he has received three separate wounds—one on the left wrist dividing the tendons of the thumb and forefinger—one on the left shoulder striking the shoulder blade and one in the back opposite and penetrating the left lung and about two inches in length on the exterior of the body, the latter wound being in our opinion sufficient to cause death. The said wounds being inflicted by a butcher knife in the hand of William Stricklin, at Oregon City at about 2 o'clock P. M. on the 21st instant.—J G Campbell, D P Thompson, Wm Whitlock, Wm Dierdorf, Fred Charman, D H Good.

Coroner of Clackamas county

TREASURY NOTES.—We take the following clear and succinct statement from the San Francisco Bulletin: "As Treasury Notes are, under a law of Congress, coming into general circulation, the information conveyed in the statement may be of great service. Read and preserve.

From a circular issued by Salmon P Chase we learn that where Treasury notes are alleged to be lost or destroyed, they can only be paid after maturity upon proceeding as follows: First—Make affidavit before an authorized magistrate, showing time, place and all other material circumstances attending the loss or destruction of the notes; also the number, date, rate of interest, period to which interest, if any, has been paid thereon, in whose favor issued, whether endorsed and by whom, whether endorsement was made blank or specially to some person whose name must be given, with all other necessary particulars in regard to the ownership and disappearance of the notes. After this the proof of satisfaction will be referred to the first Comptroller, who will draw up the bond of indemnity that must be given. When the bond properly filed, is sent back to Washington, with it must go the advertisement of the loss of the notes, and the publisher's affidavit that it has appeared in his newspaper three consecutive weeks. Unless the proof showing actual destruction of any note is direct and conclusive the amount will not then be paid until a year's delay after maturity of the note so as to give opportunity to any possible holder of the note to present it for redemption.

GENERAL SIGEL.—The National Intelligencer states that General Sigel has been on duty in and near Washington ever since the return of the army from the line of the Rappahannock river. His command is all near at hand and has not been called upon to encounter any new dangers since its service under Gen Pope. General Sigel's corps is not and has not been with General McClellan during his campaign in Maryland. The statement is confirmed by a Washington correspondent who states that the order for the march of both Sigel's and Heintzelman's corps up the [illegible] side of the Potomac was countermanded, and thus the chance of intercepting the flying rebels while crossing the river was lost.

A SEA LION DOMESTICATED.—A highly respectable gentleman of San Luis Obispo says that he recently succeeded in domesticating a sea lion. He caught one which weighed about one hundred pounds, took it to his house—some five hundred yards distant from the beach—and placed the animal in a tub of salt water. Here it was fed assiduously with fish some seven days, after which it would crawl round the premises as naturally as any other domesticated animal. On two or three occasions the creature was thrown into the sea some distance from the shore, but would invariably return to its favorite resting place under a large stove in an out house.—San Francisco Herald.

CITY.

The MORNING OREGONIAN has a larger SUBSCRIPTION LIST than any other Daily published in this City.

THE DAILY OREGONIAN may be had at the Franklin Book Store, and at Charles Barrett's, Front street.

FIRE.—An alarm of fire aroused the "boys" —not only the "boys," but it seemed to [illegible] everybody ran to see the sight, last [illegible]. A sudden lurid blaze burst forth up-[illegible] illuminating a large portion of the northwestern part of the city, causing [illegible] to imagine that half that section of the city was suddenly wrapped in flames. Upon arriving at the spot, however, we discovered the flames proceeded from a stable on the corner of Fifth and Stark streets, belonging, we are informed, to Messrs. Johnson and Perkins, and which had been recently filled with new hay. The building was, as a matter of course, almost instantly wrapped [illegible] preventing all possibility of recovery, and the only thing that could be done was to tear down the burning mass as quick as possible to prevent the fire spreading to other buildings in close proximity. The "Hooks" [illegible] the matter manfully, while No. [illegible] with No. "3's," pumped water [illegible] tank on corner of Stark and Second [illegible] which did good service in quelling [illegible] extinguishing the flames. In this, [illegible] other instances of the kind that we [illegible] the several fire companies of [illegible] exhibited much promptness and efficiency in responding to the alarm and doing all [illegible] be done to prevent the destruction of [illegible]. All honor to the Fire Department [illegible] land, say we.

ACCIDENT.—We learn that a man fell into [illegible] the cisterns thrown open last night during the excitement over the fire, but did not [illegible] whether any serious damage was done by the fall or not.

[illegible] ADJOURNED.—The City Council [illegible] began its labors last night when the fire broke out, causing the Council [illegible] to be suddenly vacated, and a premature adjournment of that body without per-[illegible] anything of importance.

HIS NOSE BROKE.—Mr. E. W. Nottage, [illegible] had his nose broke by some shoul-[illegible] at the fire last night. The name [illegible] doing the job he could not tell, [illegible] was to dense and the hitting so [illegible] he did not see anything but stars [illegible]. He says, however, that the [illegible] quite considerate, for he hit on one [illegible] the nose first, bending it over considerably, and then bent it back again by another lick equally as hard. We presume that [illegible] the chap can be found out, Mr. [illegible] will give him some evidence of his appreciation of such kindness.

[illegible].—We have to record the re-[illegible] that one session of the City [illegible] and adjourned (last night) [illegible] claims being presented against [illegible] body. We call that a model [illegible].

[illegible].—A gentleman who visited the [illegible] for the purpose of witnessing [illegible] on the turf, informs us, candidly, [illegible] the day's running could have [illegible] up by fast nags in less than half [illegible] time. The first race that came off, [illegible] off, while the second was a long [illegible] though, and the third and re-[illegible] postponed until another time. [illegible] there was one effort made, and the [illegible] race alluded to above was won by a [illegible] pony, for a purse of 450 "scads," [illegible] or less, best two in three: time about 3 [illegible]. There was a trotting (more running [illegible]) match, won by a roan horse: [illegible] can't tell, got tired watch-ing. The [illegible] match, best two in three, [illegible] Mr. Green's sorrel horse. Something [illegible] same sort may be expected to-day.

[illegible] Rev. Bro. Max Nolff will deliver [illegible] the origin, working and symbols [illegible] Free Masonry—in the Hall of [illegible] Lodge, Portland, this evening at [illegible]. All Master Masons in good [illegible] are invited to be present. By order

FAMILY
SEWING MACHINES
ARE UNEQUALLED BY ANY FOR BEAUTY AND SIMPLICITY OF CONSTRUCTION
—AND—
Efficiency in Working.

A GOOD SEWING MACHINE

SHOULD BE WELL MADE, simple in its construction and easily kept in order; should make a stout lock stitch, alike on both sides of the material, and should sew any and all materials that can be sewed.

It should be able to use cotton, thread, or silk directly from the spool, and to sew from coarse to fine, and from thick to thin, with rapidity, and without changing the tension. It should also be able to make the stitch greater or less, on both the under and upper threads, and with uniformity; and should have a straight needle; curved ones being liable to break.

The needle should have perpendicular motion—this is absolutely necessary for heavy work.

It should be able to bind with a binder, hem with a hemmer, should stitch, fell, run and gather; and should be always ready to work.

It should be capable of using the same size thread on both sides of the work, and of using different colored thread or silk above or below, to correspond with any two colors of cloth to be united.

It should be able to make a long or short stitch, and to fasten off the seam, and commence sewing tightly at the first stitch, and to run easily, and make but little noise.

It should have a wheel-feed; no others are in constant contact with the work.

It should not be liable to get out of order; neither should it require a screw-driver or wrench to set the needle.

It should not be liable to oil the operator's dress.

It should not form a ridge on the under side, or ravel.

DR. BAKER'S
PAIN PANACEA.

Is composed entirely of healing gums, and vegetable oil and herbs. It is perfectly safe for the most delicate to use. I can most sincerely say that I have never known any, however delicate to be injured by it in the least. I will continue to ask the afflicted, who have not used it, to try it for the following diseases; If they are not satisfied with its healing properties, the money will be cheerfully returned by the agent where the medicine is for sale.

If you have pain in the stomach or bowels, try a dose of Pain Panacea internally, bathe externally over the parts affected, and you will at once restore the proper action and relieve the pain.

If you have a Bruise or Wound, bathe it well with the Pain Panacea four times a day. It will relieve the pain, and take out all the poison, and heal the wound in a short time.

If you are suffering from Neuralgia or Rheumatic Pains, apply the Pain Panacea freely, and take a dose of it internally, morning, noon and night; it will not only cure the pain, but will remove the cause of the disease.

If you have the Dyspepsia, and your food distresses your stomach after eating, take a dose of Pain Panacea after each meal.

If you have a Cankered or Sore Mouth or Throat, apply the Pain Panacea, to the affected parts, and gargle the mouth or throat three or four times a day.

If you have the Diarrhoea, or a relaxed state of the bowels, take a dose of Pain Panacea, and they will soon be restored. If you have a painful swelling, bathe the parts freely, and you will soon relieve pain, and the swelling will be reduced.

If you have a severe tooth-ache, apply the Pain Panacea on a piece of cotton and bathe the gum at the same time; it will stop the pain instantly.

If you have a pain in the Breast, Side, Back or Kidneys, bathe the parts affected morning and night; at the same time take a dose of the Panacea internally.

If a Mother has a caked breast, apply the Panacea as hot as it can be borne.

If you feel chilly or cold, as though you were going to have a fever, take a dose of Panacea.

If you have a wound, cut, or galls upon your horse, apply the Pain Panacea; it will take out all the inflammation and heal them in a short time.

Gray's Harbor, and the Valley of the Chehalis.

To those who are looking around, with a view of locating farms or claims in this Territory, we commend the region of country which forms the subject of this article.

Gray's Harbor was discovered on the 7th of May, 1792, by Capt. Robert Gray, of Boston, the renowned discover of the Columbia River, who named it Bulfinch Harbor, in honor of one of the owners of his vessel, the Columbia. In October of the same year it was surveyed by Lieut. Whidby, of Vancouver's expedition, who gave it the name of Gray's Harbor, in compliment to the American navigator. There are two capes or points at the entrance of the harbor; the northern being Point Brown, and the southern Chehalis Point upon which the town of Chehalis City is situate. Inside of these Points, the harbor spreads out into a large heart-shaped bay, contracting on the east side, at the mouth of the Chehalis River, having the base of the cone towards the entrance from the ocean. A bank extends across the entrance, having an opening or passage, about three fourths of a mile in width, carrying from five to eleven fathoms of water. Outside of the bank is another narrow bar, with only some three fathoms of water. From this point the depth increases towards the east; the deepest water being between the points of entrance.

The bay is surrounded by mud flats, which are bare at low water. The mouth of the Chehalis is pretty near due east from the entrance, at a distance of twelve miles from Point Brown. The greatest width north and south is some fifteen miles; the area of the bay being about one hundred and fifty square miles. Gray's Harbor has been pronounced by competent judges to equal the harbor of Boston. The Umtaluh, Hokium, and several other small streams, empty directly into Gray's Harbor. The largest river emptying into it is the Chehalis, which takes its rise near the Cascade Range, near the Columbia River, flows north for a considerable distance, thence almost due west. It possesses many tributaries, the principal of which are the Satsop, Wynoochee, Westican, John's, Black, Skookum Chuck and Newaweum. This valley is the richest and most extensive of the river valleys west of the Cascade Mountains; varying in breadth from fifteen or twenty to fifty miles. In fact, we may say that the whole of the country from the Chehalis to the head of the sound and the head of Hood's Canal is admirably adapted to farming purposes. Fine prairie land, to the extent of 50,000 acres, well suited for grazing, lies in the vicinity of Gray's Harbor, and the rich river bottoms of the Chehalis and its tributaries, now covered with an undergrowth of alder, maple, &c., easily cleared, would furnish first rate farms for thousands of people. Populate these valleys, and a mart or emporium of trade would of necessity spring up on Gray's Harbor, or at the mouth of the Chehalis, with an easy outlet to the ocean. Remoteness from market should not deter settlers from occupying these rich tracts. Such an extensive body of fertile back country, so capable of subsisting a large population, will soon find an outlet—a market for its produce. A road is feasible from the mouth of the Satsop river to the head of the Sound, not to exceed in distance thirty miles. And even now, by the ordinary traveled route, the distance from Chehalis City to Olympia is but ninety miles. Such difficulties are not insurmountable—hardly to be considered in a new country. Where was the market for any of the settlements on Puget Sound, only a few years ago? With the appearance of population, and its necessities, all such obstacles at once vanish. To the pioneer making a new State, they amount to nothing.

At all seasons and stages of water, the Chehalis is navigable, for vessels of light draft, to the Wynoochee, and at high stages of water to the mouth of the Satsop. With some improvements to the channel, for 8 months in the year small steamers of proper construction could come to Skookum Chuck, or even higher up the Chehalis. There is a good wagon road from Olympia to the block house on the Chehalis, some twenty miles above the mouth of the Satsop; from thence, Indians and canoes are always in times to transport freight or passengers down the river.

Chehalis City, Cosmopolis and Montezuma, the two latter on Chehalis river—already claim to exist as towns. The vast forests of magnificent trees of the very best kinds, so accessible to navigable water, and the numerous streams furnishing water power, or channels for transportation, present lumbering facilities hardly surpassed even upon Puget Sound.

The waters all abound in salmon, trout, and numerable varieties of edible fish; and game both large and small, are plentiful in the woods and prairies. Coal has been discovered on the north bank of the Chehalis.

We have not personally visited this interesting section of our Territory, but we have our information from reliable persons, who are familiar with it. We have no interest in over-drawing a picture of any section; but if all, or near all, that is said, be true, we doubt not the Chehalis valley will soon furnish homes for a large and thriving population.—Puget Sound Herald.
